

Welcome to Willmoth Immigration Law, LLC

Experience

Attorney, Jonathan and Geoffrey Willmoth has assisted individuals nationwide with their complex immigration issues. Our extensive experience representing clients ranges from international corporations to small start-up businesses, from highly-educated scientists to refugees and asylum seekers fleeing their home countries in fear. We can assist you to prepare for and implement the best strategy to attain your immigration-related goals.

Students

We offer free consultations to current students and recent graduates seeking information on their immigration options. Please bring your current immigration documents and transcripts with you.

Researchers

We assist universities, hospitals, scientific institutions and individual researchers from across the country in seeking permanent residence for scientists.

Doctors and Medical Professionals

We represent nurses, doctors and related medical professionals in immigrant and non-immigrant visa petitions, including waivers of the two-year home residence requirement for J visa holders.

Employers

We help employers bring employees to the country in a wide-variety of non-immigrant visa categories, including professional workers, intra-company transferees, trainees and others.

Families

We help United States citizens or lawful permanent residents bring family members to the U.S. from their home countries, or help them remain in the U.S. as permanent residents, including obtaining waivers on the grounds of inadmissibility as well as well as defending against orders of deportation.

Deportation Defense

Our nation-wide experience includes representing those in deportation proceedings seeking political asylum, cancellation of removal, waivers and permanent residence.

Litigation

We successfully represent individuals seeking to obtain a timely judgement in their long-pending applications. We have also sought and received attorney's fees from the government when their position was unjustified.

Appeals

Jonathan Willmoth has won difficult cases on appeal before the Board of Immigration Appeals, Federal Courts, and the Board of Alien Labor Certification, using novel and creative legal arguments.

Naturalization

We assist clients seeking naturalization in complicated situations, including successfully appealing denials and winning federal court naturalization cases.

Competitive Pricing

As a nationally-recognized speaker and author on immigration matters, Jonathan can bring this experience to bear on your complex immigration issues at reasonable prices. Most immigration matters are handled on a flat fee basis, so you will not be charged for every phone call and e-mail. Additionally, we pride ourselves on offering the best service available at affordable prices.

Call for your personal consultation today!

816.753.7382